Information Requests/Registrations:

The ARKCitizenScience.org website uses information requests or registration systems for some aspects of usage. If you submit a request for information or submit a Registration/Subscription sign-up, we will store all the information you send us in a database. This information may include your name, e-mail address, postal address and other information related to your use of ARK services. We use this information to build a better picture of the usefulness and target audience for our website, products and services. In accordance with Data Protection laws we do not offer for sale or make available to any third parties, any personal information, e.g. names and e-mail addresses. It should be noted however that since the internet does not recognise national boundaries, all web services on the net are accessible globally, therefore collection and transmission of personal data is not always confined to one country. You should be aware that by using the ARKCitizenScience.org website your personal data may be processed in or transferred to other countries, the USA for example, and you agree to your personal data being transferred or processed in this way.

Intellectual Property Rights
